

2021 IGCSE Results Analysis for Year 11

This year, following the cancellation of the IGCSE exams in Turkey, the grades were awarded based on 3 pieces of work completed by the candidates, followed by a quality assurance check by Cambridge International. The pieces of work used to award the grades had to be of a significant length and as broad as possible in terms on the skills and contents and learning objectives assessed.

This year again, was full of anxiety for students, parents and staff alike, given that the exams were cancelled only a couple of weeks they were due to start. It meant that students couldn't focus on preparing solely for the exams but also ensure that they submitted their class assignments and assessments and produced them to the best possible level. Despite this adversity, anxiety and uncertainty caused by COVID 19, students have done well, highlighting the importance of consistent hard work and focus, a good working ethic over the duration of the two-year course.
